Dear Hazel and Stan:

The Christmas Spirit is once again with us and there is the usual activity of shopping and all the preparations so appropriately handed down from generation to generation. We sometimes think it is for children but it too brings good tidings to the older ones as well. We can think as little children and our memories bring back the times when we had our families together. Our parents always seemed most happy when we all gathered at home.

We will be spending our time at Jan's this Xmas. Donald's family are in London so we are expecting them. Jack wants to be alone with the young daughter at Kingston. The weather conditions are uncertain to travel with an infant. Had a letter from Laura. Jim has been in hospital but is improved - as Laura was this difficulty. Isobel has been home for a few days, mostly on account of heavy snow falls. She celebrates her 37th anniversary Dec 14th. She is now a consultant in Clinical Pathology and gets round a great deal. San Francisco and Los Angeles this fall and she goes to a world international conference in London in May '71. We are looking forward to a visit from Mona, Tuley's sister, this summer. Jessie is keeping quite well, gets up to see us at the holiday season.

July had a severe attack of shingles this fall pulled her down a bit. I believe she felt that she was falling apart, but the go-go is back again and she and Isobel have been busy with Xmas preparations. She has to have her proper rest periods but she must not miss her hockey and foot ball games and some of her favored T.V. programs.

I am having a good year and at the office every day. Still am doctor to the Ontario Institution of Correction.

We all send our love and best wishes.

Wilfrid.
